

Forensics of Bioterrorism

8-13 May 2025

just before the Natural Traces Meeting

Institute of Legal Medicine, Goethe University Frankfurt, Frankfurt am Main, Germany

Thursday, 8 May 2025 – Henk Braig

- Introduction
- The long history of biological warfare

Friday, 9 May 2025 – Henk Braig

- Bioterrorism, history and modern cases
- Insects in bioterrorism
- Biocrime
- Parasites in forensics and biocrime, human, wildlife

Saturday, 10 May 2025 – Henk Braig

- Detection and monitoring
- Biosensors, new detection techniques
- Assessing risk
- Natural disease outbreaks versus bioterrorism
- Preparedness in forensics

Sunday, 11 May 2025

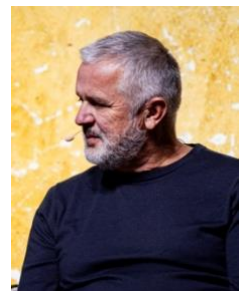

- Frankfurt Tour
- Workshop Dinner

Monday, 12 May 2025 – Henk Braig, Jens Amendt

- Technical Vulnerabilities
- Synthetic DNA, Sequences of Concern; Biosec. Reg. Fw.
- Biohackers, AI
- Visit to the Taphonomy facility

Tuesday, 13 May 2025 – Daniel Vaněk, Henk Braig

- Biological Agents
- Detecting Biological Agents in the field
- Deliberate traces and taggants
- Chemical and physical taggants
- DNA and biological taggants

The workshop does not have any practical activities. Biodefence, medical aspects, and counter measures are not covered.

Registration for members of Natural Traces and its students is free, otherwise € 690.

For accommodation possibilities in Frankfurt and for ECTS credits, contact Ildikó Szelec, email: i.szelec@med.uni-frankfurt.de; for content of the workshop, contact Henk Braig, email: hrbraig@icloud.com

Registration: forensic-workshops.org